

Good morning, team members. Let us dive in. Congratulations on an incredible CSIR Road Race 2025. We all saw the immense hard work the committee and other organizers poured into this, and it is so inspiring to see it pay off in such a spectacular way.

The atmosphere was fantastic, and the keynote announcer Aaron was brilliant as per usual. The feedback we are receiving from the participants is glorious and sensational. We are growing as a club, and I am sure next year it will be sizeable and considerable.

To our major sponsor, Bestmed Scheme ,your generous sponsorship of this year's marathon created more than just a finish line. It created a moment of pure human resilience and triumph. Your presence amplified the community spirit, and we are so grateful.

A huge thank you to our Marshalls and others who did a splendid job in making sure the runners are cheered and directed the right way throughout the route. Finally, yet importantly, we appreciate the sweepers for their help and dedication. You're awesome.

Way to go, team, and catch you later.
